

Possip 2024 Spring Interns

Monika Reddy Gunnam

Data Science Intern

Monika Reddy Gunnam, from India, recently graduated from Lindner School of Business, University of Cincinnati with a Master's degree in Business Analytics. She previously worked for Infosys as a Data Analyst and also holds a Bachelor's Degree in Electronics and Communication in India. She is excited to work at a growing organization like Possip to help schools and families make better decisions. Apart from work, She is really passionate about Art and enjoys walking, spending time with her family and friends.

Shashwat Mishra

Delivery Data Analyst Intern

Shashwat Mishra is a sophomore at University of Cincinnati majoring in computer science. His passion for computer science stems from the idea of creating and working on impactful products. He is our data science intern working with the Tech Team. Outside of school and work, Shashwat enjoys playing table tennis and drinking boba tea!

Anna Mullinger

Sales and Community Outreach Intern

Anna Mullinger is a UX/UI designer with a passion for innovative and accessible design. With an eye for detail, she brings a designer's perspective to the look and feel of Possip's growing interface. She is a 4th year communication design student in the University of Cincinnati DAAP program, studying a variety of design related fields. Before Possip, she worked at UC's Center for Cyber Strategy and Policy creating educational videos and marketing materials. In her free time, she enjoys making music, watching horror movies, and cooking with friends

Geeta Phuyel

Business Analyst Intern

Geeta is a senior at the University of Cincinnati studying Business Economics. She is diving into the role of a business analyst intern at Possip, working hard to pick up some valuable professional skills along the way. What gets her excited about Possip is the mission to amp up communication in schools and communities. Being someone who talks in English as her second language and attended public schools, this mission hits close to home for her. In her free time, she enjoys reading books by Agatha Christie, Khaled Hosseini, Leo Tolstoy, Chimamanda Ngozi Adichie, & Lemony Snicket. She also loves exploring with National Geographic. When I'm not doing that, you'll find me cooking or hanging out with my family.

Lily Unterhaslberger

Marketing Intern

Lily Unterhaslberger is studying communication design at the University of Cincinnati and helps make the marketing materials here at Possip. She is excited to use her skills in design to help better students' every day lives. She is from Cincinnati, Ohio. When she is not designing, Lily enjoys drawing, visiting art museums, and walking her dog Ruckus.

Hailey Taylor

Marketing Intern

Hailey Taylor has been attending the University of Cincinnati DAAP since 2019, studying communication design, and is our social media and graphic design intern. Hailey is from Troy, Ohio, and fell in love with design in high school. Hailey has always had a passion for creativity, and also loves to do photography, travel, exercise, attend concerts, and spend time with loved ones.
